TU Darmstadt

CV

Dr. des. Linda Wallbott joined the Research Group International Relations in January 2017. Prior to this she was Research Fellow at University of Münster (2014-16) and at the trans-university Cluster of Excellence "Formation of Normative Orders" at Johann Wolfgang Goethe-University Frankfurt/Technische Universität Darmstadt (2008-13). She was visiting researcher at the Tropical Agricultural Research & Higher Education Center (CATIE) of Costa Rica (2017), Newcastle University, UK (2014), the Fridjof Nansen Institute, Norway (2013) and the Bangladesh Centre for Advanced Studies (2010).

Linda gained her PhD in Political Science from University of Tübingen in 2018 with a dissertation on human rights and international climate negotiations. She studied Political Science in Darmstadt, Germany, and Karlstad, Sweden (2002-8) and worked as a student research assistant for a research project on "The Role of Business in Global Governance: Corporations as Norm-Entrepreneurs" (2005-8), and as an intern at the Peace Research Institute Frankfurt on the role of business in zones of conflict (2005). She gained further work experience as an intern in Deutsche Telekom's unit "Corporate Sustainability & Citizenship" (2007-8), Amnesty International and as volunteer for UNDP Brazil.

Responsibility in GreeTS

In GreeTS Linda works particularly on Work Package 4 (interactions between the global, national and local levels), contributes to Work Package 2 (land-use), and co-organizes and conducts fieldwork in Vietnam and Costa Rica. Also, Linda is the general contact person of the project and manages the GreeTS Working Paper Series.
